

PROGRAM

Mr. DOLE. Mr. President, at 11:30 a.m. Monday, under a previous order, there will be 6 hours of debate on S. 219, the moratorium bill.

For the information of all Senators, no votes will occur during Monday's session of the Senate.

JIM EXON

Mr. DOLE. Mr. President, the States of Kansas and Nebraska share a common border. And the citizens of those two States also share common characteristics of hard work, honesty, and personal responsibility.

For the past 16 years, those characteristics could be seen here in the Senate, in the work of our colleague, JIM EXON.

As my colleagues know, Senator EXON announced on Friday that he will retire from the Senate in 1996, and I rise today to pay tribute to his distinguished public service career.

His service to Nebraska and to America began in 1942, when he enlisted in the U.S. Army, and served for 2 years in the Pacific theater.

After returning to Nebraska, Senator EXON would eventually serve for nearly 18 years as president of his own office equipment company.

In 1970, he brought his business experience to the Governor's office, where he served for 8 years, and earned a reputation as a guardian of tax dollars.

Since first coming to the Senate in 1979, Senator EXON has made a difference on a wide number of issues, including agriculture, trade, transportation, the budget, and national security.

I know I speak for all Members of the Senate and saying that we look forward to working with Senator EXON for the remainder of this Congress, and in wishing he and Pat many more years of health and happiness.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 10:30 A.M.,
MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1995

Mr. DOLE. Mr. President, if there be no further business to come before the Senate I move we stand in adjournment under the previous order.

The motion was agreed to, and the Senate, at 3:30 p.m., adjourned until Monday, March 27, 1995, at 10:30 a.m.
